FINNOLULU, AUG. 1, 1888. The principal receipts from domestic ports, during the week, were 17,300 bags super and LESA bags rice.

The cargoes for San Francisco, by the Mary Winkelmann and Australia, aggregated in value $170,875,78.

Bradstreet's of the 21st July has the tol-lowing on the sagar situation : Some erroneous ideas appear to have been set in circulation by the recent marked activity in the market for both raw and refined sugars. Talk of a "corner" in the raw product has been freely indulged in, and the "sugar trust" and Mr. Spreckels of California have been in turn mentioned as sufferers from or exiners by the alleged manipulation in that market. Whatever may be the effect in the future upon either of the above-named it is, we believe, safe to say that so far neither of them has been riously aggreged. Whether the consumer has escaped so easily may be judged from the fact that granulated sugar is now selling at an advance of ic. per pound upon the quotations ruling at the end of June. Other grades of relined goods abow approximate advances. Haw sugars are fully byc. higher. The reasons for this marked advance, most of which took place last week, are not diffenit to discover. The sudden and marked activity in reduced and the advance in values shown were the result of a general movement on the part of the wholesale grocery trade to replenish its depleted stocks of refined at a time when demand for canning was brisk and when retiners generally were well supplied with orders.

The statistical position of raw sugar, already strong, has been greatly strengthened by the sudded rise in the finished pro-duct. Other influences before this occurred, however, had tended to make this feature of the market one of exceptional strength The total United States stock of raw sugar on July 18th was 171,311 tons, against 240, 104 at the same date in 1887, a decrease in the American supply of 68,718 tops. The present stock is smaller than at the same date in any previous year for ten years, except in 1882, when prices were it, higher than at present. The total meltings during the past six weeks approprie 158,291 tons. against 132,885 tons in 1887 during the same period, an increase in favor of 1888 of 25,455 into consumption there is, according to prominent authorities, less angar than was available at the same time last year, owing to smaller supplies from all the West India islands and the diversion of some Philip-pine islands' sugar to the Pacific coast. The supply of sugar for eastern reduces from the two sources above mentioned etalusive of Cuba, promises to be fully 100, 000 tons less than was received last year. Coba's erop will show a beavy decrease

In the absence of the usual supplies re course will probably be had to Europe for About 5,000 tons are reported bought in Europe this week for shipment bere. Beyond an excess of 40,000 tons available for export from the United Kingdom there promises to be little European super likely to come here before the new beet crep becomes available. The key to the situation at present seems to be th price question. By or before the time prices advance sufficiently high to materially check consumption an active movement of all available raw sugars may be expected to Judicial Decisions.

A decision of the Supreme Court in banco by Justice Bickerton, concurred in by Chief Justice Judd and Justices McCully and Preston, was filed in the Clerk's office on Saturday, in the case of the King vs. Lum Hung. Defendant was convicted in the Police Court and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and to be mprisoned without hard labor for three days and to pay costs, for "violating Sec. 5 of Chap. 41, Session Laws of 1886, by having unlawful possession of tools, devices, implements or tickets to play pakapio, a banking game, in Honolulu, this being Lum Hung's second offense." The defendant appealed to the Supreme Court and at the April term, 1888, was found guilty and sentenced to hard labor two months and fined $300, when the case was appealed to the full Court on exceptions to the verdict, to the refusal of the Court to charge the jury as requested by defendant, and the denial of a motion that the jury be directed to return a verdict of acquittal. The Court in rules the exceptions, saying that objection might have been taken to the accusation on the ground that it was not sufficiently specific, but it did not appear that such objection had been brought by counsel.

Justice Dole concurs with the decision with the exception of the conclusion stated in a certain passage, saying he is not prepared to adopt this view nor does he think it essential to the decision of the issue submitted to this Court. The conclusion dissented from is as "We are of opinion that if the charge in the Supreme Court had been in the same terms as that made in the Police Court, the exceptions would have been well taken and they would have had to be sustained and the defendant discharged, because there was no evidence to show that papakio was a banking game." A. P. Peterson for the Crown; W. R. Castle for the defendant.

On Saturday also was filed a banco decision by Justice Preston, con-curred in by Chief Justice Judd and Justices McCully and Bickerton, on the motion for a new trial on behalf of J. H. Reeves. Defendant was convicted at the term of the Third Judicial Circuit Court at Hilo in May last for cattle stealing. Application was made to the Circuit Court for a new trial on the grounds that the verdict was against the law and the evidence and of surprise. This motion was refused on the ground that the Circuit Court could not grant a new trial in a criminal case. Exceptions to this ruling were argued at the late July term and overruled. Mr. Hartwell then moved for a new trial on the grounds beforementioned and also on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Mr. Peterson, Deputy Attorney-General, took a preliminary objection to the motion, that it was too late. The Court by this decision dismisses the motion for a new trial, in brief, because exceptions were not taken before and certified by the Judge presiding at the trial, and because a rule of the Court directs that application for a new trial should be filed with the Clerk of the Supreme Court within ten days of the Justice Dole dissents from this decision, saying there is no statute or rule of Court that limits the Supreme Court in banco to the ten day rule in motions for new trials from the Circuit Courts in criminal cases. He cites a Hawaiian decision where it was held that the ten day rule is subject to the control and discretion of the Court, and may be waived to prevent an injustice. That Ladies Black Hose, Pure Silk being a civil case so decided upon, the dissenting Justice holds that the argument in this, a criminal case, is much Col. Border Hdkfs. stronger for the exercise of a liberal discretion.
